Wikis are a way to manage content that inform readers about a certain topic(s). They may be created, organized and managed collaboratively by the space administrators. Publish dates are visible to Members, unlike CMS Pages.

Members can like, follow and comment on wiki pages.

The screenshot shows the CoLab Wiki interface. At the top, there's a breadcrumb trail: lobby » colab » wiki » research platform » my apps & tools » articles and news. The CoLab logo and 'Wiki' are prominently displayed. Below this, the title 'Articles and News' is shown. A metadata bar indicates it was published on 11/18/2020 and updated on 11/18/2020 by CoLabSupport. There are icons for comments (0), views (0), and a star rating system (0 votes). A search bar is located on the right side of the page. Below the title, a section titled 'Articles/News' contains a paragraph explaining the importance of articles and news. It includes a call to action: 'Like, comment, and even use the stars to rate'. An inset image shows a 'News' section with a 'Play Space News' button and a list of news items. A sidebar on the right lists various pages, including 'Research Platform', 'My Account', 'My Apps & Tools', 'Activity Stream', 'Articles and News', 'Bookmarks', 'Calendar/Events', 'Chat & Notifications', 'Files', 'Login & Password', '@Mentions', 'Navigation', 'Pages (CMS)', 'Profile: Personal Settings & Preferences', and 'Required Reading'.

Members are able to see when changes are made based on the updated publication date. Download, print, bookmark, like and even use the stars to rate wikis.

The screenshot shows the CoLab Wiki interface with a list of wikis. The 'Wiki' tab is selected in the top navigation bar. The list includes:

- Spaces: Published 11/18/2020 8:07 AM by CoLabSupport. Views 0, Comments 0.
- @Mentions: Published 11/18/2020 8:07 AM by CoLabSupport. Views 0, Comments 0.
- Login & Password: Published 11/18/2020 8:06 AM by CoLabSupport. Views 0, Comments 0.

A red arrow points to the text 'Select a wiki to learn more.' located below the list.

Many administrators choose Wikis and/or CMS pages which are organized and managed by hierarchy and/or topic. Permissions to manage (edit, delete) are based on roles in Manage Space.
